Treasures . . . a word with infinite definitions. A treasure is not only a material object-such as money or jewels. A treasure can be a feeling, like the excitement of a pep assembly. A treasure is often a memory, like the ambiance of prom night. The treasures we have accumulated during our high school years will be held in our hearts and souls forever as precious memories. Like fine jewels kept securely close and constantly being counted, our memories will always be with us and ready to be reminisced.

There was lunch in the cafeteria with all of your friends, gossipping about failed tests and weekend plans. That first Saturday, and thinking about how much you hate greenies.

Football games, Homecoming and dances with friends. The endless miles you ran during track season.

Sophomore year and the relief of no longer being a "Freshman".

Remember the color your face turned when you had your first accident in the chemistry lab, a distinct shade of red that you will never forget. Driver's Ed. and everyone laughing when you drove over the curb.

Basketball games and worrying that this would be the year a stupid picture of you would be in the yearbook.

Being a junior, making Homecoming floats, anticipation of prom. Having been given permission to finally use the car, and the prospect of never having to set foot on a bus again. Staying up all night to get a notebook finished, and after all the effort, getting yelled at anyway for falling asleep in class.

Your very last first day of school, the answer to four years of struggle. The crimp you got in your neck trying to hold that impossible pose for your senior pictures.

ACT scores and college applications. Hissing information about a current crush each time the teacher turned to face the board.

The climax of it all: Graduation . . . and having it so close.

These are the treasures of memory that make up a High-School year.

Top left: Kim Delf blows her cornet. Top right: Dave Darrow shows his "junior" strength on Matt Wenzel and Gary Evans. Middle: Friends gather after a pep assembly. Remember when you were a freshman and everyone seemed so big and mean? You wouldn't even think twice about going to a dance or a football game for fear of getting beat up.

Then came the sophomore year. The year when your confidence starts to build. You know now that your chances of getting beat up are slim or none. You start to go to the games and dances and realize that high school is fun and that you could actually like going to this place. You go home and tell your mom about the great time that you had with your friends . . . about the cute senior men or women that asked you to dance. You now realize that you're accepted and the fear of being tortured is over.

Now it's your junior year, and you now realize that you are second in line. You have some authority now. You go to all the dances and games. You cheer for our beloved football team, singing the fight song, laughing and cruising the visitor side for interesting people.

Finally — the year you've been waiting for, your senior year. You're now one of the head honchos of the school. This is the year that you control the dances, football games and most of all — the pep assemblies. The spirit stick is yours.

These memories are the treasures that no one can ever take away from you.

Treasured memories are those that are spent with friends. As time goes on, that bond grows stronger. Looking back, you see your most precious moments — the times of laughter, pain and excitement have all been spent with those special people you call your friends. A friend is someone you can always count on in times of need. A smiling face and a shoulder to cry on. Your tower of power and your treasure chest of joy. A friend is someone who is always there when you need to talk. Someone who listens and knows just the right thing to say to make you smile again. Friendship is a special kind of love. A love that is held safely in your heart through the years of separation and is never forgotten. A friend is a treasure.

No matter where life takes you your memories of high school will be treasured forever. We have all kinds of memories . . . triumphs, tragedies, successes and failures.

Just think, what was your favorite high school memory? Was it the day you became a sophomore, and were no longer a freshman? Was it the day you finally got an "A" on your social studies test, or the day you made the basketball team? Your first date, your drivers license, new friendships, parties, football games and dances. All of these are things that have been a part of our high school life and that we hold dear to our hearts.

The 1987 Varsity Softball team had a lot of young lent. With three returning players the girls gained luable learning experience. The scoreboard esn't reflect the teamwork and spirit the Pirate rls shared. The highlight of the season was the ctory over the number one team Chelsea. In the nth inning the girls were victorious 3-2. This me showed the team they could compete with the st team in the conference, and working together, ey could win.

There was great individual talent on the squad. aryn Gavin, Sherri Holcomb and Julie Hall were med second team All-County and Laura Nianowicz received an honorable mention. Jill Glov- and Karyn Gavin were voted Co-Captains, and dividual awards of Best-offense went to Sherri olcomb, Best Defense-Colleen Raden, Most Valuble Player and Star Pitcher-Karyn Gavin, and the rate Award went to Mary Figurski. "The season as a good learning experience for the players as ell as for myself," quoted first year coach Ray avin.

A STRONG EFFORT

The 1987 boys varsity baseball team played tough this year but had some bad breaks. "In terms of wins and losses, the season was not as good as we would have liked," said Coach Eddings. They ended the season with a 13-17 record. Coach Eddings was pleased with the effort contributed by all the players. One exciting moment was the 6-1 win over Chelsea, who at that time, was second in the league.

At the close of the season awards were given to recognize key players. Seth Knapp received the most valuable player award. Steve Black was honored as the most improved player. The best pitcher award went to T.W. Wylie and Joe Charder received the title of Rookie of the Year.

Next year six of the starting nine players are returning. This should provide a strong base for a winning season.

A SWINGIN' SEASON

The big success story of the 1987 spring sports scene was the J.V. softball team. They finished with an outstanding 18-3 record and outscored their opponents 284 runs to 87. Coach Mate was pleased that the team did so well, despite a shuffled line-up, due to injuries and vacations. She described the highlight of the season as being the 4-2 defeat over South Lyon, whose varsity team is ranked #1 in the state. Cheryl Schlickenmayer pitched almost every game and accumulated a record of 17-3. Other outstanding players were Jennifer Yeakey, Cheri Gary, Tobi Williams, Kim Witter and Jenny Mortensen.

A Rookie J.V. Baseball Team Slugged their way to a successful season filled with

HIGHLIGHTS AND HOMERUNS

The 1987 J.V. Baseball Team gave the Pirates a proud name. The team consisted of 11 freshmen and 4 sophomores, and despite their youth, came away with a 7-5 record overall. The Pirate sluggers posted an outstanding team batting average of .321 and had an output of 160 runs over 21 games. Coach Whitaker especially enjoyed the final game when his team scored 15 runs against South Lyon. Dave McWhinnie and Jim Black each won four games to lead the pitching staff, Mike Keiser took charge of the outfield and Shannon Frece received MVP honors.

The 1987 Girls Track Team ran outstanding times to achieve a

RECORD BREAKING SEASON

The 1987 Girls Track team had a much improved season over the past three, finishing with an overall record of 4-7. There were many highlights of the season, not the least of which was sophomore Angela Thomas' two school records — in the mile and the two mile. Carrie Szekely, the 1987 MVP, was also a stand-out performer, achieving a school record in the 330 hurdles. Becky Figurski as a fine scoring freshman, and Barb Figurski, Tiffany Golden, Shana Parrish, Kelly Barth and many others all contributed significantly to this fine track team. Head coach Julie Mantyck was joined by a new assistant, Jim Wicker, who brought considerable expertise and experience to the coaching staff. They look for good things to happen in the future for Pinckney girls track.

Milan Puddle Jumper Relays — 2nd
Stockbridge Invitational-2nd
Conference-2nd overall

The boy's track team finished the season with a record of balanced scoring showing no real weak areas. Teamwork and endurance provided many memorable moments.

Some of the highlights include tying for second at the League Meet and taking fourth at the State Meet in the 3200 meter relay.

Coaches Dave Mitchell and George Tilt along with captains Craig Badalamenti, Doug Bickle, Mike Black, Ken Wicker, and Tom Chouinard provided the needed leadership to make a competitive season.

The girls' golf team this year was young but not short on improvement. They improved their dual meet record to 6-9 and moved up to fifth place in the tough central 8 League. Leading the way for the Pirate golfers were co-captains Laurel Tregoning and Caryn Boyd. Caryn Boyd, a junior, was also voted most valuable and most dedicated by her teammates. Karen Pelachik, a sophomore, received most improved honors while the humorous hacker award went to freshmen Karol Cobb. With the return of a fine group of under classmen, Pinckney should enjoy a successful season next year.

The 1987 Pirate Golfers came in fifth place this year. They improved greatly and were

The 1987 Boy's Tennis Team was a young team, but they faced the tough competition with a positive attitude. Team Captain, Kevin Banchoff, provided support for the team with his experience and leadership. Scott Walchak and Dan Haines showed strong development and were presented the J.V. and Varsity Most Improved Player awards respectively. The greatest assets to the team were Ken Privett, Rob Romano, and Kevin Banchoff who all received a Most Valuable Player award for their tremendous efforts. "The team has plenty of raw talent and it's just a matter of developing a consistent program over a few years," says head coach, George Carpenter.

TRANSCENDENTALISM AT P.H.S

"Cast conformity behind you," Ralph Waldo Emerson.

"If a man does not keep pace with his companions, perhaps it is because he hears a different drummer. Let him step to the music which he hears, however measured or far away." Henry David Thoreau.

"The Night Thoreau Spent in Jail" was an interesting experience that stimulated the minds of over 200 people. Lots of time and effort went into making "The Night Thoreau Spent in Jail", a success. The play was exceptionally good and the talents of these fine individuals was something to be commended.

P.H.S. STUDENTS PLAN FUTURE

On Thursday, March 18, 1987, fifty seven speakers came to Pinckney High School to talk to the students about prospective jobs out there in the real world. It was the fifteenth annual Career Day, sponsored by the National Honor Society.

Chiropractic medicine, modeling, journalism, engineering and coaching were just a few of the areas that were represented. A motivational speaker also drew large crowds. There were four sessions for students to attend, each lasting about 25 minutes. For lunch, the guests were invited to stay for lasagna and salad, prepared by National Honor Society chefs. Most everyone termed the day a huge success.

BACCALAUREATE SERVICE — MAY 31, 1987

On a warm spring evening, May 31, 1987, the class of '87 celebrated their baccalaureate service. With music by the high school choir and a solo by senior Jill Glover, the mood for a very special evening was established. Reverend Charles S. Rasmussen gave the Baccalaureate address and reminded us that "religion at its core is power. Once you have that power, you'll never be the same again."

YEARBOOK DISTRIBUTION 1987

On May 28, 1987 volume 21 of the Pirate Log was distributed. With cover and endsheets designed by senior Doug Bickle, "This Is It" became a huge success. Selling close to 900 books, a record was set here at Pinckney. Pinckney High School also has one of the highest selling percentages per student population in the nation. As the faces of the underclassmen lit up with the thrill of receiving a new yearbook, the seniors looked back and cherished their high school memories. For many, yearbook signing is a last good-bye and for others a way to express their everlasting friendship.

The Class of 1987 had a rather unusual graduation. The ceremony had to be held in the auditorium due to adverse weather conditions. However the weather didn't dampen the graduates spirits. Mr. Thomas Bleet, the enthusiastic speaker, added even more zeal to the ceremony with his vivacious address. It was a great year for the class, and it only seemed proper to end it with such an extraordinary ceremony.

It's a Friday night and the bleachers are packed — The New Bleachers that is! The Varsity Football team takes the field and the fans cheer. Along with the construction of new football bleachers, lights, and a paved parking lot, Pinckney built an outstanding football team. Head Coach, Tim Cosgwell, worked with a new quarterback, a new defensive coach, returning defensive ends with substantial backups, and five sophomores with starting potential. Although the sidelines sported many injuries, the Pirates worked hard all season to finish 3 and 6. Coach Cogswell said, "The Pirates played an exciting brand of football. The team broke many school records and the defense played exceptionally." Some of the outstanding players were quarterback — Steve Lynch, wide receiver — Steve Black, tackle — Rob Prucka, tight end — Tom Reason, defensive end — Bob Nemeth, and linebackers — Jamie Pine and Jim Chapin.

Top left: Jamie Pine and Bob Nemeth battle with the opponent to gain control. Middle left: The Pirate team shares the thrill of victory. The J.V. Pirates had an excellent year, with strong drive, which led them to the S.E.C. title for 1987.

"They pulled together to work as a team," said Coach Friberg about the J.V. team. This year's awards went to Jim Barth for Best Offense, Todd Norton for Best Defense, and James Lakins was the winner of the Most Improved award. The Pirate award was given to both Jon Haddon and Mike Keiser.

The J.V. Football team, under Coach Symington finished first place in the SEC, capping off

The 1987 Pirate Freshman Football Team Worked Hard And Never Gave Up. They WERE ALL WINNERS!

This years team had 31 freshman Pirates. Their fighting spirit and enthusiastic attitude helped them learn the techniques of football. "Each team member played outstanding," said Mr. Ralph Dresch, who coached the team with Mr. Mike Muscoe. The players had to be scholars as well as athletes because the coaches closely monitored their grades. Outstanding players include John Spilak for best offense, Scott Shaw for best defense, Mike Mains for most improved, and Dave Krolewski received the Pirate Award. The players are looking forward to becoming junior varsity players next year.

With A Lot Of Hardwork And Hustle, Diligence And Determination, The 1987 Lady Pirates Were

CROWNED SEC CHAMPIONS

Five seconds left on the clock. The girls on the court are hustling hard; the bench is tense with excitement. Four seconds . . . with tenacious defense and flying feet, the Lady Pirates are working hard on the court. The crowd is ecstatic; their teammates are on their feet cheering. Anticipation is in the air, tense as a tightrope. Three seconds . . . we steal the ball! The bench is rambunctious, uncontrollable! Go! Go! Drive all the way! Two seconds . . . the ball is up, hanging on the rim . . . one second . . . it drops in the hoop! The buzzer sounds! With a roaring crowd and a screaming team, the 1987 Girls Varsity Basketball team changes history. For the first time (even dating back to the old KVC days) the Pirates take first place outright, and are crowned champs in the SEC.

What a year for the Pirates! The year started out rough, with only two returning starters. But the team worked very hard and it paid off. According to head coach Gary Eddings, "This team had less raw talent than I've usually had, but the girls made up for that by having more effort and determination." The competition for the starting spots was very intense; many players played in more than one spot until Coach Eddings found a combination that worked.

When he found this combination, things started to happen. The highlights of the season included beating the defending league champions Saline twice and winning both the Chelsea and Milan games, clinching first place.

Exceptional performances were turned in all season by Laura Oestreich and Laura Nikanowicz, both of whom were three year starters. Awards were as follows . . . Best Defense — Julie Hall, Pirate Award — Mary Figurski, Most Improved — Cheryl Schlickenmayer, Most Valuable — Laura and Laura.

Although the season came to a heartbreaking close with a loss in the district finals to Hartland, nothing can take away the sweet smell of victory and the amazing accomplishments of the 1987 Lady Pirates. Great going, girls!

The J.V. Girls Basketball Team Overcame Their Inexperience In A Hard Fought Season That Boded Well For

A PROMISING FUTURE

Though this years record was not an impressive as it has been in the past, the girls J.V. basketball team had a season to be proud of. With only two returning starters, they had a great deal of room in which to grow. And now they did, becoming easily the most improved team in the league, evidenced at the end of the season when they beat a tough Milan squad with a convincing score of 34 to 16. The team was led by sophomore captains Michelle Boyes, Becky Figurski and Candi Elsey, as well as Rachelle Adiska, named best defensive player and freshman center Alysha Wallace. The strong bench of the J. V. was led by Shelly Hollister and most improved Jodi Bloodworth.

The Pirates ended up with an overall record of 3-17 and 3-9 in the SEC. It was a hard fought season that ended on an encouraging note for the future.

The 1987 Pirate Golfers had a season to be commended. They had strong seniors who provided excellent leadership. At the Class B Regionals, the mighty golfers tied for ninth place out of eighteen teams. At the SEC League meet, the golfers came in second out of seven teams. At the Pinckney Invitational meet, they finished first out of twelve teams, and at the Perry Invitational they were first out of fourteen teams. It was a new school and course record for the mighty Pirate golfers. The honor of being named the Most Valuable Player was given to senior co-captain Pat Burns. Pat made the All SEC first team and had the fourth best average in the SEC for the third year in a row. The ever popular "hacker" award went to freshman Andy Lerch. The honor of being the most improved golfer was awarded to junior Jason Seiter. Senior co-captain Robert Kennedy made the All SEC first team and had the seventh best average.

The Pirate golfers had an excellent season and should be very proud of their fine record of achievements.

According to Coach Charlotte Jones, the 1987 Girls Tennis Team was the best overall team she has ever had. The singles players were very competitive and had skill in many areas of their tennis game. The team exhibited great doubles play as well. All three doubles teams were exceptional.

Individuals worked hard and were always striving for higher positions. This resulted in a more competitive spirit between teammates than in other years. The competition in no way interfered with the camaraderie and friendship among the girls.

The girls' dedication to their team was absolutely admirable. Imagine getting up at 5 o'clock on a Saturday morning. The girls tennis team did this five times throughout the season, three Saturdays right in a row. In the first tournament of the season at Lakewood, the team took first place. The team's competitiveness showed in the intense Hartland and Eaton Rapids Tournaments as the girls lost by only one point at each tournament.

The girls' ability to work well together made for an exceptional team. First singles and co-captain Kristen Wuckert received the Most Valuable Player and Most Dedicated Player Awards. Most Improved Player went to third singles Renee Mortenson and doubles player Tracy Schram. Co-captain and third doubles player Shelly Romanowski was the Most Spirited and the Pirate Award went to first doubles player Kim Gray.

The Pirate Cross Country Team was made up primarily of underclassmen, making the team inexperienced in competition. However, the team was also made up of dedicated people who made the season a success in the true sense of the word. Captain Gar Eddings continued to lead the Pirates in competition. Marc Soltys, a first year runner, was a big surprise to the team, moving right into the top three. Captain Jeff Wicker, though troubled with an injury for much of the season, never left the top three. Junior Corey Robertson and sophomore Dave Perczak showed a lot of promise for next year. Angela Thomas led the girls for most of the year, always giving 100%. Jennifer Sutton was consistently a member of the top three. She moved into the number one spot near the end of the season, taking tenth place at conference, becoming Pinckney's first all-conference performer in many years. Senior captain Marta Almli was also a consistent member of the top three, showing a great deal of hard work.

The 1988 Boy's Basketball Team Turned Last Year's Close Losses Into Exciting Victories —

A CHAMPIONSHIP SEASON

It was an exhilarating season for the Boys' Varsity Basketball team. Tied for first place in the SEC with only two league games left in the roster, victory was clearly within reach. The games left included Chelsea and the biggest game in the SEC, the regular season-ender with Tecumseh, which would likely be the deciding game for the league championship. But, alas, press time had come for our 87-88 yearbook and the final two games could not be included. But with full confidence in our team, the yearbook decided to sing the praises of the Pirates without the last two games. Win or lose these guys are still champs to us.

Perhaps the reason for the Pirates' success was the teamwork our Pirates showed. For the first time in awhile the Pirates were really a team, banding together to give their all. Pinckney's starters were led by Bob Nemeth, a senior center who was probably our best all around player, junior forward Kyle Bonesteel, a talented player second only to Nemeth in experience, and senior guard T.W. Wylie, a dynamic player whose scoring abilities often carried the team through tough times. But the talent does not stop here by any means. Senior forward Steve Black was probably the teams' best defensive player, preventing more opposition points than any other Pirate. Guard Shannon Freece and foward Jeff Yeakey were important members of the team, as was Tom Reason, whose three pointers saved the team during the second Saline game, sending the teams into overtime and resulting in an important victory for the Pirates. These starters were backed by a strong bench that proved able to carry their weight in the absense of a starter.

When the yearbook went to press on February 26, the 1987-88 J.V. Basketball team had a 16-1 record with only three games to play. The team clearly had an outstanding season. The team captains: Brooks Armstrong, the teams leading scorer; Jim Black, who averaged fifteen points a game until he was injured; and Dave McWhinnie lead the team to a successful season. The team worked hard all season showing talent from all areas. The team should bring a lot of promise for next years Varsity.

The 1987-88 Freshman Basketball team, as always, had a very good year. Under the coaching of Mr. McNally, the freshmen were 12-1 at yearbook press time. The team was led by Eric Kaiser, whose high scoring and all around playing abilities earned him a spot on the J.V. team near the end of the season. Kurt Smith led the Pirates in defense, while captain Rollin Posphyhala racked up the points on the offensive side. Clayton Nikanowicz was a strong all-around player for Pinckney. Captains Mike Heffelfinger and Jeff Kirchner, and guard Ryan Bronsberg also made major contributions to the success of these rookie Pirates. The team promises to donate some talented players and to continue Pinckney's winning tradition.

Hardwork, a lot of effort, and determination are strong characteristics of this years Varsity Volleyball team. The scoreboard doesn't really reflect how well the team played-the close losses, the victories that could have been. This team is better than it's record indicates, but their potential was compromised by costly disappointments in key moments.

As for highlights, "Our first league game against Saline was awesome!" says Coach Smith. "Looks like Pinckney Volleyball turned a new corner this year," said the Livingston County Press. The girls took a surprised Saline team by storm, tying the deciding match at game point after begin down by ten points.

Talent and skills from every athlete contributed to a well-rounded squad. "There were a lot more players capable of playing all the way around — which was a pleasure," say Coach Smith.

This years J.V. Volleyball team has been working hard and gaining valued experience that will lead to a tough pirate team. With five returning players and seven new players the team is improving more with each strenuous practice and each challenging game. Returning players Renee Mortensen, Becky Figurski, and Janey Emery have shown their strong efforts to lead the team to a promising season. Shelly Hollister and Kim Golden, two awesome newcomers, are helping the team make a challenging effort.

The First Varsity Girls Swim Team Dove Into PHS This Year And Made A BIG SPLASH!

The very first girls Varsity swim team had a tough season but gained valuable learning experience. Through the rough waters the team came to the surface and is looking forward to a more successful season next year.

With the help and guidance of Coach Little, the team came together and swam hard. Coach Little said he was pleased with the team and is anxious to get to work for next season. "Most of the team will be returning as experienced veterans next year and with more athletes the girls swim team program can expand and improve."

The 1987-88 Boys First Swim Team Was Challenging, But They Worked Together

GIVING IT THEIR ALL!

The boys varsity swim team had a very good first year. The team was comprised mostly of freshmen and sophomores, with a couple of upperclassmen. The boys gained valuable experience throughout the season, as they competed with other schools. For most of the boys, this was their first taste of swimming competition. Coach David Little said that he was "very pleased with the team and is hoping to pick up a few additional swimmers to give the team more depth for a more successful season next year." The team had very promising performances from sophomores Tim Mammel and Kelly Munn. So . . . the word is out. Pinckney High School now has a swim team, and we are looking for a few good swimmers and an even more competitive season next year.

TIME OUT! TIME OUT! TIME OUT!

Participating in a sport requires athletes to spend a lot of time practicing and working together to make a successful team. It is during these hours that the team members begin to get to know and understand each other. There is a very special relationship between these athletes because they all experience similar emotions from their ups and downs during the season. These two Time Out pages are dedicated to them.

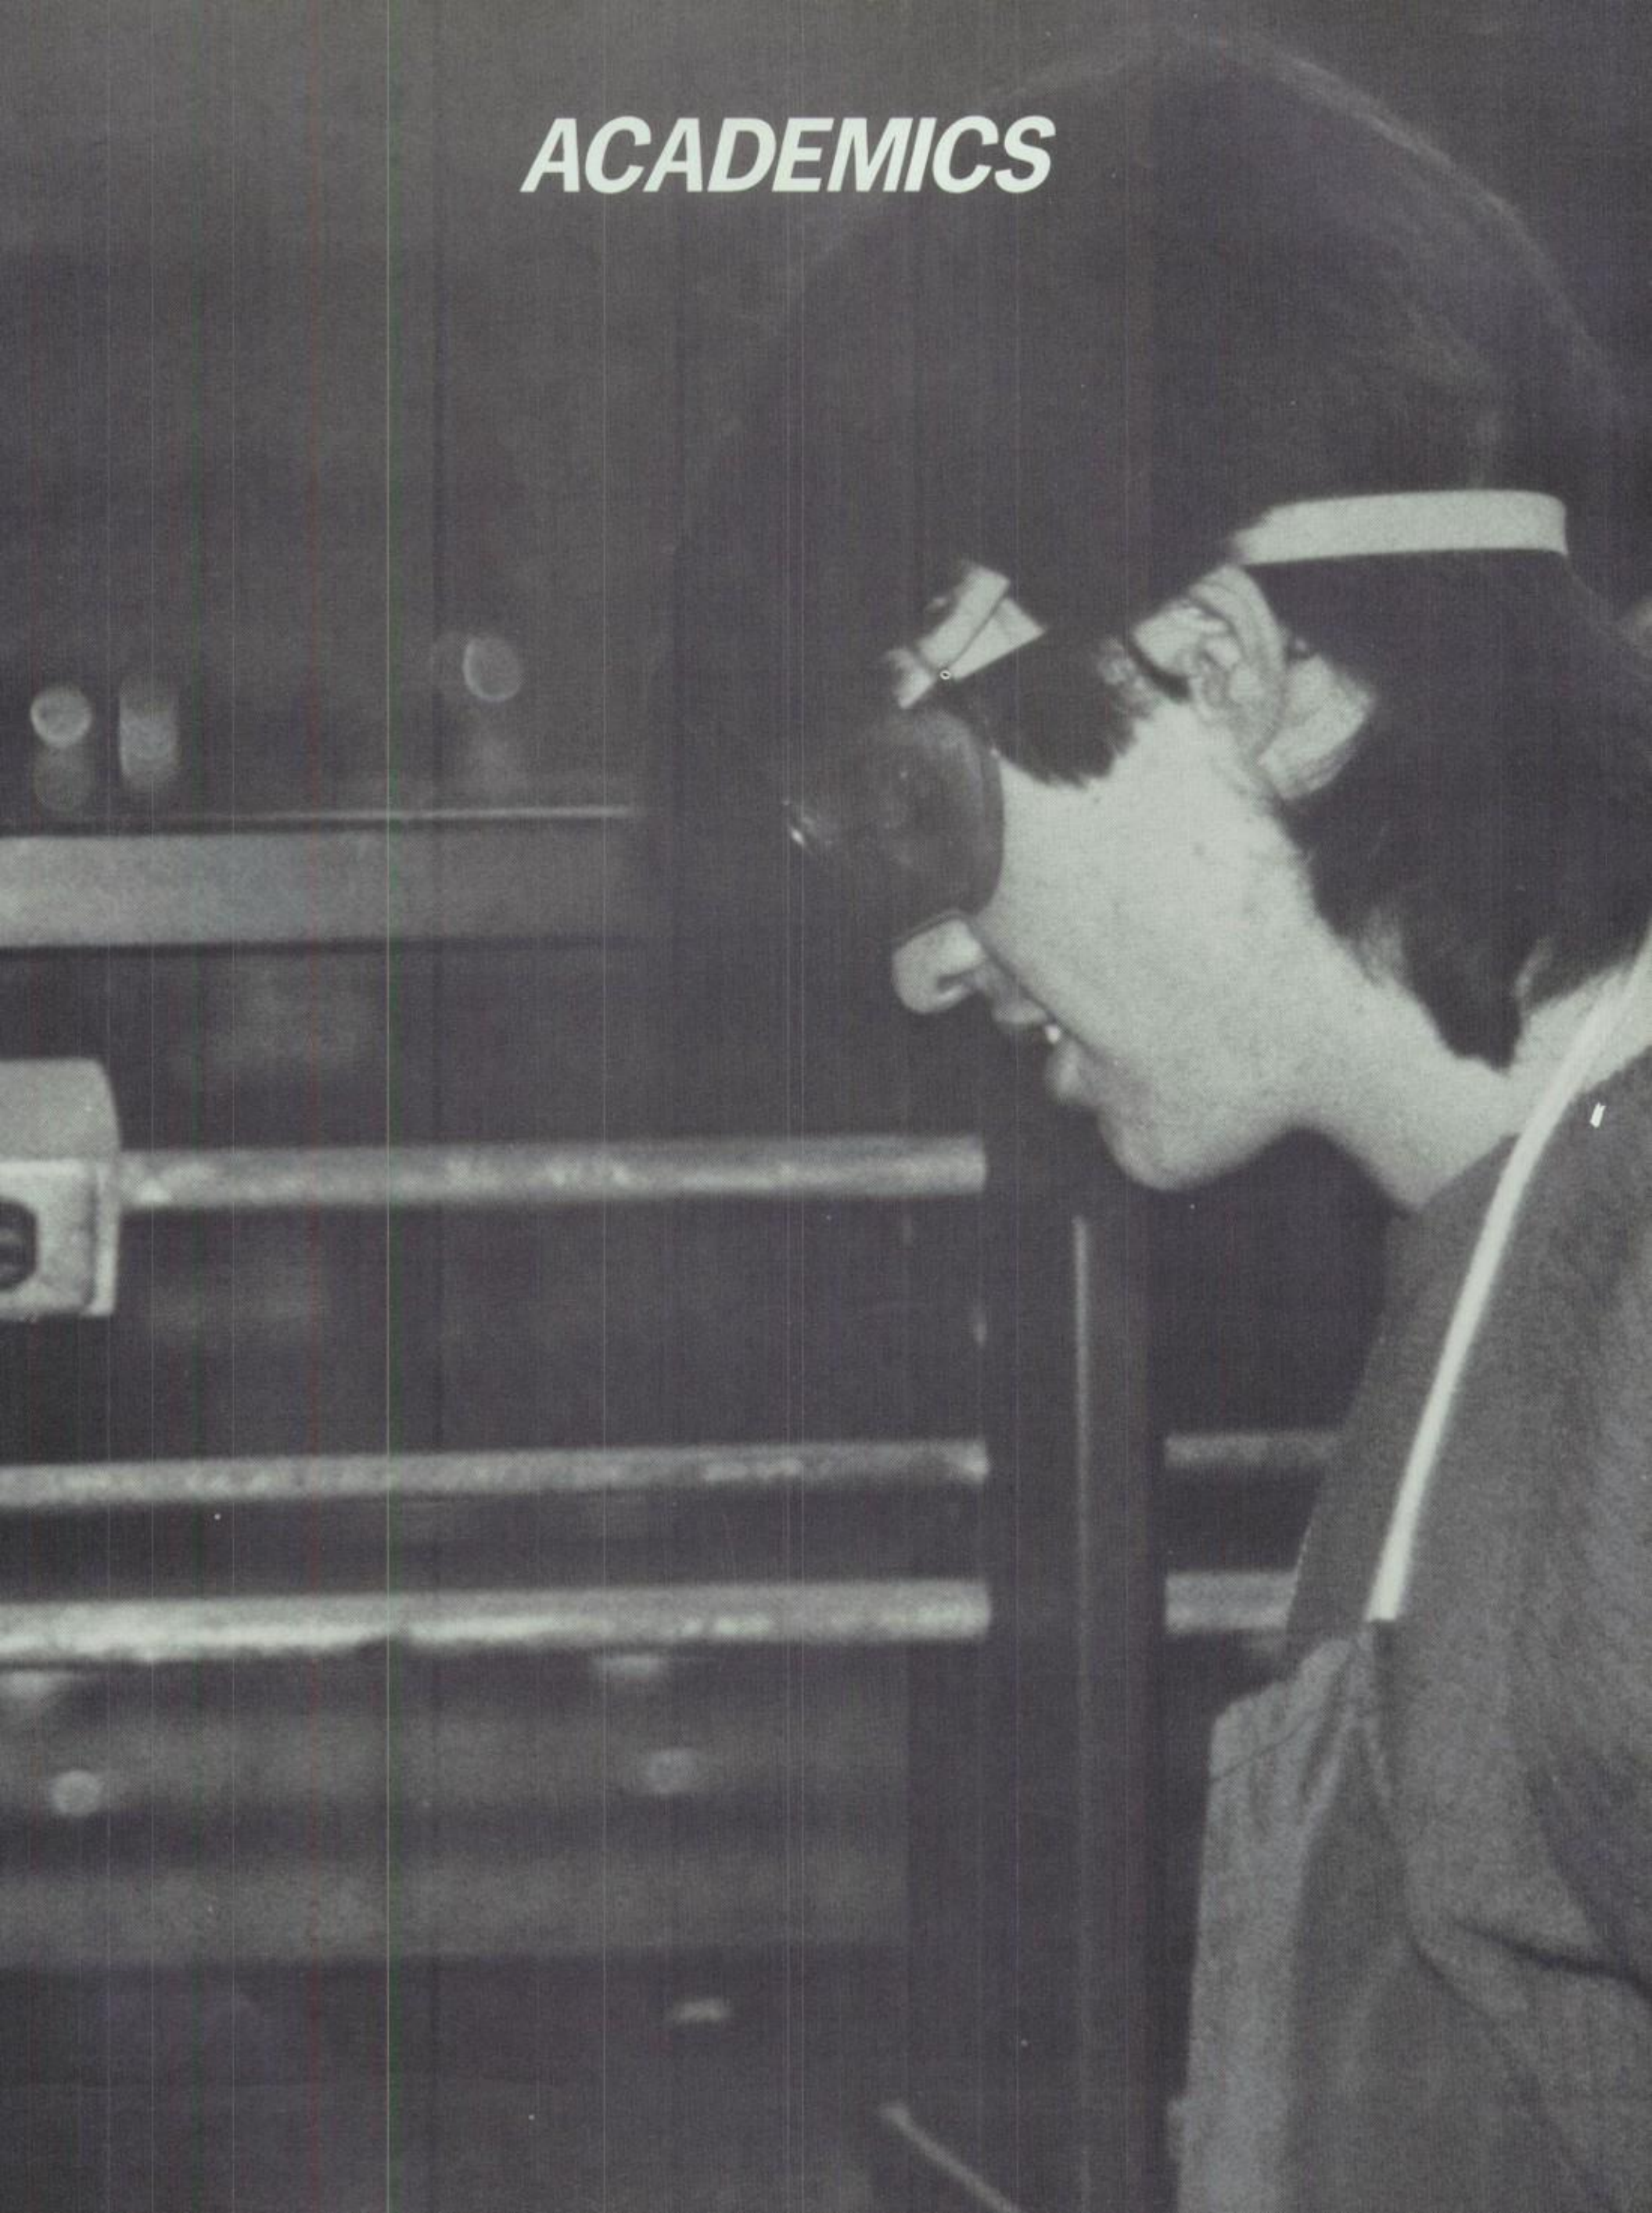
ACADEMICS



MATHEMATICS-ADDING UP TO SUCCESS

Pinckney offers a variety of math classes that you can take according to your abilities and skills. For those who just need the basic math skills, there is General Math/Pre-Algebra. For others who want to pursue a career that needs more technical knowledge, there are advanced courses ranging from Geometry to Calculus. Pinckney also offers computer classes, where you can take introduction to computers and then take computer programming the following semester. There is even an advanced computer programming class for those who want to go on. Mrs. Mantyck says: "The students in my classes are fun, interesting and certainly challenging." Mrs. Read, a newcomer to the math staff this year, adds: "The students at Pinckney are very nice, pleasant, and well-mannered."

SCIENCE: EXPERIMENTING FOR THE FUTURE

"PHS students continue to impress me with their ideas for activities both in and out of the classroom," says Mrs. Schulke, a science teacher. PHS offers many different science courses to meet the widely varied interests of students today. If you enjoy learning about the human body, you can take courses like Life Science, Biology or Human Physiology. If your interests tend toward a study of plants and animals, you may take courses like Earth Science and Botany/Zoology. In Chemistry, students do battle with equations, as well as some rather foul-smelling experiments! The science department has a course to meet every student's needs.

SOCIAL STUDIES EXPANDS OUR HORIZONS

"To the victor go the spoils." "Don't shoot until you see the whites of their eyes." "Our country . . . right or wrong." "Speak softly and carry a big stick." "I have not yet begun to fight." These words from the annals of history come to life in our social studies classes.

Here we learn about individuals, groups and the structure of society. We get an appreciation for the struggles of mankind throughout time. A student starts out taking consumer economics as a freshman, and then continues on until their study of government in their senior year. When we interviewed the social studies teachers, all of them commented on the friendly and enthusiastic classes at PHS.

THE LANGUAGE ARTS DEPARTMENT BRINGS THE CLASSICS

"A foolish consistency is the hobgoblin of little minds." "To be or not to be, that is the question . . . " "I wanted you to see what real courage is, instead of getting the idea that courage is a man with a gun in his hand." ""No, ' Lennie. I ain't mad. I never been mad, an' I ain't now.""

Here at PHS the language arts teachers expand beyond the basics. Students learn the meanings behind the long paragraphs and intricate verses. Teachers explain the themes behind novels, poetry and plays so the interpretations are clearer. To make it even better, both students and teachers have ambitious attitudes. Suddenly Hemingway seems real, and Shakespeare comes alive. Here we learn to use the tools to compose our own literary works . . . a treasure we can never repay.

THE CULTURAL BRIDGE

PHS offers two great languages to its students. There is Spanish for those who enjoy the matadores and the running of the bulls in Pomplona. For those whose tastes run to the romance of Paris, French is available. Mrs. Yocum, our talented Spanish teacher, makes Spanish interesting with cultural lectures. Mr. Abel, our fluent French teacher, makes French a real learning experience with educationally fun games. Learning a foreign language makes us all more well- rounded citizens of the world.

Behind the doors of D hall there are many surprises. From Auto Mechanics to Drafting you will find a wide range of interests represented.

In Architecture, taught by Mr. Ash, students use one of the best high school labs in the country. Drafting, Electronics, and our new Robotics course are taught by Mr. Blackford. At the other end of D hall we have Metals, taught by Mr. Brooks, where various metal techniques are acquired. In Woodshop, students are carving a future with help from Mr. Symington. In Auto's and Small Engines students begin to understand the basics of mechanics. Some prepare for careers in auto repair. Mr. Lewkowicz runs this department.

Whatever vocation you choose to do, D hall has much in store for you.

BUSINESS PATH TO SUCCESS

Students that take a class in the business department have made a wise decision. These students are gaining knowledge and experience in areas that may prove very helpful in the future. The classes offered at P.H.S. are Retailing and Marketing, Accounting I and II, Typing IA and IB, Business Law, Steno Clerical, Shorthand and the School Store. Mrs. Cook, a very active teacher in the business department, said "Students are pleasant and willing to learn." This seems to reflect the attitude of the other teachers.

For those people who like to eat good food, Foods I and II would be a good choice. Clothing lovers can take a course in Clothing I and II. Furthermore, many students both male and female can really benefit from taking Family Living, Child Development or a Health class.

ART: CAREERS IN CREATIVITY

Creativity plays an important role in a students education here at Pinckney High School. Whether it be in an English class, Home Economics, or in the Arts department. For those who are just beginning their interests in art a course called Elements of Art is offered to teach one the basic skills. For those students who wish to further their artistic skills, more advanced classes such as Drawing & Painting, Jewelry, Sculpture, Ceramics and Printmaking, are offered. Here the students learn about balance, texture, shading, basic design and line.

Physical education at Pinckney High School has reached new heights. Two years ago the physical fitness and weights class had just eleven girls. They now have fifty. The growth of weight training classes stimulated the development of a new weight room and the acquisition of new machines last year for both men and women. Mrs. Mate, Mr. Dresch and Mr. Eddings provide a varied athletic program for their physical education classes and a more specific course for those taking weights. Mr. Dresch enjoys being able to see the freshman gym students grow up and become seniors. Mrs. Mate says, "It's fun to see the girls get stronger muscles, increase their cardiovascular endurance, and feel better about themselves."

SYMPHONIC BAND - THEY GOT THE BEAT

The band showed us their talents in many ways this year. These PHS students entertained us during all the home games and also put on the annual spring and Christmas concerts. The members of the band also went to festival, where they competed with many different schools for medals. Many of these band students also went to solo and ensemble, where they played in front of a judge who rated them individually for medals. Another exciting event this year was the symphonic bands trip to EMU, where the band performed at a home game there.

CHOIR - TAKE NOTE

The P.H.S. Choir is full of talent this year. The students sing a variety of different types of music, and in the proces develop skills in reading music. The handbells is made up of students who hav a special interest in music. They sing a melody with their hands and their voices. Each year the choir and the handbells perform a winter and a spring concert for the school. Any student may audition for a solo part or a duet. The piece of music the student sings is determined by the theme c the concert. The students work together to come up with the theme for each spring concert.

LIBRARY: CHECK IT OUT

Each student at PHS will use the library at least once during their high school career, and for most of us, it happens a lot more frequently than that. Students who need information on almost any topic can look up the answer by using the card catalog, periodical guides, using the wide collection of informational books or magazines. The library has been adding to and updating its materials and collections of encyclopedias.

The library also offers something else to students here. It offers a place of peace and quiet, a sanctuary from the storm of the busy day. Sometimes the library is just a great place to go to do homework, study or even read a magazine. The librarian, or media specialist, as she is called in today's lingo, is very busy being the school's "official book pusher", as she says. She is also the AV trouble shooter, card filer, book review reader and overdue fine catcher of Pinckney High. So, come in and check out the library.

VOC-ED CONCENTRATES ON CAREERS

This year, on a larger scale than ever before, students from Pinckney are venturing out and seeing what other schools offer in their voc-ed programs. Furthermore, other students are coming from all over the county to take classes at our school. Students come here to take Architectural Drawing or Industrial Electronics. Pinckney students venture to Howell for child care, health occupations, food production and business data processing. Other students go to Brighton for graphics and construction trades.

Whether all of these students choose to make careers out of these learned skills or just enjoy the classes, it is truly a valuable experience.

The canteen staff works hard to prepare and serve food to the faculty and students. This page is our way of saying thank you to these important support people.

P.H.S. OFFICE PULLS IT TOGETHER

The front office, located in the center of the high school, works hard to keep or school in top running order. Mr. Lester, the principal, and Mr. Stevenson, the assistant principal, oversee the school and keep everything going strong. Mr. Cutright, who does double duty as both athletic director and assistant principal in charge of attendance, is a very busy man. The secretaries, Mrs. Cavins and Mrs. Chodkowski, are just completing their first full year here at PHS. They have taken the office by storm, and we are now better organized than ever for both staff and students. Mr. Friberg and Mrs. Tisch work as hall monitors and permanent substitutes. Mr. Friberg also served as the head wrestling coach this year in a very successful season. When all of these people pull together, the front office is the power house of the school.

CENTRAL OFFICE - CORNERSTONE OF EDUCATION

The central office staff coordinates the activities of Pinckney Community Schools. They are responsible for keeping the district operating efficiently. The staff skillfully maintains six individual schools. They effectively accomplish this tremendous task. Our thanks and appreciation goes out to them for doing such a marvelous job.

The community education staff is responsible for activities that are offered within the community complex. They provide supervision for the pool, gym, and auditorium. The staff also organizes information that is to be published concerning the variety of programs that are available to the community.

ACTIVITIES

HOMECOMING 1987-GAMES PEOPLE PLAY

1987's Homecoming, "Games People Play," was a terrific theme for not only the pep assembly, which consisted of a tug of war (seniors vs. underclassmen) and also the spirit chant. Both of these events were dominated by the enormous senior class.

Superior weather kept spirits soaring during the parade and homecoming night. Halftime festivities assured us all that the past week of dedicated float building had paid off. The freshman float — "King the Pirates" took fourth place. The sophomore float — "Pirates Hang Lincoln" followed the juniors float which came in second with "A Sweet Victory."

The seniors made a clean sweep with their float entitled "Lincoln's No Battle".

Glamorous dresses and winning smiles were displayed as homecoming representatives Jennifer Baughn-freshman, Libbi Godfrey-sophomores, Jeanne Romine junior, and senior representatives-Donna Alamat, Amy Greenshields and Sheri Webster were escorted across the track. All were stunning. Amy Greenshields was crowned 1987 homecoming queen.

The Pirates dominated the field but the Lincoln Railsplitters were too strong for them during the final quarter of the game. The final score was 6-12.

Music and videos were played throughout the dance by Dee Jay Enterprise. The dance was an exciting conclusion to the week's festivities. Homecoming 1987 was spirited, exciting and glamorous.

YEARBOOK CAPTURES TREASURED MOMENTS

Ten days ... nine days ... are those pictures developed yet? Eight days ... seven days ... can you type this copy for me? Six days ... five days ... four days ... hurry! I need help with this caption. Three days ... can I borrow a grease pencil? Two days ... one day ... DEADLINE! If you haven't already guessed where these words can be heard, it's the yearbook room. This year's staff worked feverishly to put together volume 22 of the Pirate Log — Treasures. This year the yearbook staff sold a record number of books — 900. This is a book that many of the PHS students and staff will "treasure" forever.

NEWSTAFF - A WORLD OF WRITING

The 1987-88 P.H.S. newstaff did a top notch job this year. They produced a weekly newspaper called the "Connection" which appears in the Brighton Argus. With intense weekly deadlines, they managed to put out an exceptional display of current events in Pinckney. Three energetic newstaffers, Theresa Tenpas, Amy Romine, and Jennifer Vargo were invited to attend a national convention in Kansas City. Theresa Tenpas returned home with national awards for her talents.

What's in an NHS member? Character, service, scholarship, and a lot of hard work! These students not only achieve academically, but they are also involved in projects to benefit the community and the school. Students are a part of various fund raisers. NHS members work at bingo concession, sell Valentine roses and M&M's to raise money for scholarships. NHS members also host Career Day, where speakers from a variety of professions talk of the various aspects of their occupations. They also hosted in-service day for teachers. Teachers from different schools came to PHS to see speakers discuss many different aspects of the teaching profession today. The Grad Rapp was back again by popular demand. PHS alumni discussed college life from the inside. All in all, NHS members contributed a lot to making this school year special!

CO-OP - SCHOOL AND WORK GO HAND IN HAND

Co-op is a class offered to seniors at PHS. During r after school these seniors are gaining valuable orking experience by being employed at nearby usinesses. Some students work right here in the chool office. Mrs. Cook is in charge of the Co-op ass. She organizes the program and makes fre-uent visits to their place of employment to see that verything is running smoothly. Co-op students are equired to fill out weekly time sheets, attend morn-g meetings bi-monthly, and complete evaluation rms every marking period. Any senior that has a b and may need a credit to complete their schedule hould give serious consideration to the Co-op pro-am. The students involved in the Co-op program em to get a lot of satisfaction from their jobs. Part this is accredited to the valuable information they ceived from one of the job related courses.

KING OF HEARTS 1988

On Friday, February 19, senior Jeff Krolewski was crowned the 1988 Kings of Hearts. Other members of the court were seniors-Jason Pless and Jeff Yeakey, junior-Kyle Bonesteel, sophomore-Brooks Armstrong, and freshmen-Mike Spadafore. Tradition continued as the seniors walked away with the spirit stick from another energetic Pep-assembly.

Both Junior Varsity and Varsity kept the night lively and exciting as the Pirates ended their games victorious.

Though the snow was falling outside, the inside festivities were still going strong as the Pom Pon squad and Cheerleaders did their combination routine. The night ended with a dance sponsored by the cheerleaders.

STUDENTS ORGANIZE TO PREVENT DRUNK DRIVING

By March of last year, three diligent determined students — Jennifer Grendze, Michele Losey and Sydney Cassily had spent their time and energy to begin a SADD chapter at Pinckney High School. SADD is an acronym for Students Against Driving Drunk. The membership grew rapidly as meetings and fund raisers were planned. A Tupperware sale was their first project. This was followed by a real involvement in and commitment to the first Senior All Nighter.

This year started off with a canister drive and a Saturday car wash at Captain Frosty's. The SADD members kept busy all afternoon washing everything from T-birds to semis.

The SADD chapter was earning money to help send its members to the Annual Michigan Conference on Mackinac Island. The students who attended came back full of ideas and enthusiasm to meet the SADD chapter goal of saving lives by alerting students to the dangers of drinking and driving.

DRAMA CLUB — ALL THE WORLD'S A STAGE

The Pinckney High School drama club is a group of young people who are interested in acting and in theater. They meet every Wednesday after school with Mrs. Tregoning in order to work on their voices, articulation and dramatic presentation technique. This year they have been working on a program called "Voices from the High School", which is composed of a series of vignettes. Together they present a touching portrayal of the problems faced by many teens today, including such difficult ones as death and loneliness. It has also been announced that they will be doing a play called "The Mouse That Roared", but due to the late date, the yearbook had already been sent to the presses.

TRENDS

The 1987-88 school year brought many new trends here to P.H.S. Several things were new on the fashion scene this year, and today many students are dressing in acid-wash jeans. Colorful and artistic sweatshirts were very popular, as well as cropped tops, tennis shoes and good old Reeboks. The miniskirt staged a comeback this year. Jeans slimmed down from the baggy look of a couple years ago.

The smash hit "Dirty Dancing" has everyone dancing to the music of today's top hits. Both guys and girls are donning leather jackets and boots, but good old denim is still a top priority item in anyone's wardrobe. On the other hand, dressing up is also coming back in style. It has been a year which reflects a style where everyone can choose the look that's right for them and still be very "in".

This year going out to the movies was back in style. The smash hits of the year were Fatal Attraction, Dirty Dancing, La Bamba, and Three Men and a Baby. Timothy Dalton also proved himself worthy of playing the charismatic James Bond in The Living Daylights.

On the homefront the television networks brought back such favorites as Moonlighting, the Cosby Show, Oprah Winfrey and David Letterman. New this year were shows like 21 Jump Street, Thirty Something, and A Year in the Life. These were mostly aimed at the "yuppie" generation and met with mixed reviews. Meanwhile, commercials brought Spuds Mackenzie, the female pitbull to fame and fortune.

Madonna started this year's music parade with her Who's That Girl concert tour. Seventeen year old Tiffany exploded onto the scene this year with I Think We're Alone Now. Whitesnake, an upcoming new rock band, dazzled everyone with songs like Here I Go Again. This year was also a year for comebacks. George Harrison released his long awaited album entitled Cloud Nine. Pink Floyd made an impressive comeback with Momentary Lapse of Reason and a concert tour. Michael Jackson resurfaced with his popular Bad album. The soundtracks from Dirty Dancing and La Bamba were smash hits.

NATIONAL NEWS

The 1987-88 school year started out on shaky ground. California had an earthquake measuring 6.5 on the Richter scale in early September.

The Tigers rallied to their victory over the Toronto Bluejays for the American League East Championship, but the Tigers were no match for the Minnesota Twins who represented the American League in the World Series.

The University of Michigan Wolverines stumbled in the fall of '87, being defeated by the Notre Dame Fighting Irish and the Michigan State Spartans, who went on to the Rose Bowl.

Turmoil in the Middle East continued this fall. It was revealed that the CIA had sold several million dollars worth of weapons to Iran for the release of United States hostages. The United States then sent them some of the profits from the sales to the Contras of South America to aid in their fight for freedom. All of which made Oliver North a national hero?

A new record was set at the New York Stock Exchange in October. The Dow Jones-dropped in a six hour session. At 10:00 a.m. it was 2183.42 points and by 4:00 p.m. it was at 1739.23. A° record 508.00 point drop. "Now is when greed and panic set in," said one broker.

Among the National problems, a night full of disaster turned into a miracle. Northwest flight 255 crashed just after take off from Detroit's Metro Airport. One miracle emerged from a night of tragedy. One four year old child survived the crash. Little Cecelia Cichon did not know that her parents and brother were dead. Her mother put herself over Cecelia's body to save her.

Jessica McClure, an 18 month old girl, was playing in a yard on Wednesday when she fell 22 feet into an empty well. It took hundreds of rescuers nearly three days to dig her out. Finally on Friday cheers came from the rescue shaft as rescuers brought Jessica up and rushed her to the hospital.

But the country has some good news. There was the Papal visit to Detroit, Miami, Los Angeles, and many other large cities.

Could this be the last of the Nation's problems? We will just have to wait until next year and see.

No matter where your future takes you remember your past . . .
Remember the lakes and the rivers —
the fields and the farmlands.
Remember the crisp autumn days brilliantly painted in oranges and yellows.
Remember the hot humid summers splashing with sunshine on vibrantly blue lakes.
Remember the peace and serenity of a countryside silently covered in fresh pure snow.
Remember the springtime when the sleepy animals awake and the trees and the flowers dressed in bright new colors dance with the promise that life will go on.
PROTECT IT! PRESERVE IT!
This is Pinckney
Your heritage and your home.

Opening Color Section
The Entire Staff*

The people who have an asterisk by their names served as editors for the section. The Pirate Log staff would like to acknowledge and thank the following people for their time given to help make this yearbook possible:

Joe Gabli
Mrs. Mantyck
Mr. Abel
Sean Coller
Sharon McAlister
Mr. Craig Folk
Mr. Cutright
Joe Solecki

We also wish to thank the Parent Patrons, those people who sponsored a sports page on which their son or daughter appears. Their names are located on that page.

Farewell to the Class of 1988:
Class flower — the white rose
Class song — Here I Go Again
Class Motto — "If you can imagine it, you can achieve it. If you can dream it, you can become it."

Trasa,
You saved a hole page for me, so I guess I have to take up space! Your a real sweet friend we got to get together over the summer & do something, like go to Hines Park (the drive through zoo)! There are so many guys there, me & you wouldn't know what to do - and I won't tell Steve if you don't tell Rob, Bob, Ken or any of my other loves! I hope we stay friends forever we can't get to be any better of friends. I will see ya next year & defenately over the summer. Love ya, Tina (T-baby)

Trasa,
Ya a real sweetie
U met through angle.
Your a great person & U know you'll go far in life. Have a great summer.

Terasa,
Well, we made it through
Evans english class (Yea!)
Have a great summer &
see ya next year.

Treasures

Terasa,
To a sweet girl, who
I really got to know pretty good this year
good luck in all you do & with the guys
Nick T.

P.S. Please stop picki on me.

Terasa,
You're the funniest
person. You make Mrs.
Evans class really fun-
I can't wait until Macbeth is done with
I was going to say
have a great summer
but I already know will! I hope you're in that my classes
next year.
See ya
summe
Love,

Teresa
well girl - I'm all done with school and you've got 2 more years to go. Maybe even longer if you work on your other classes like you do in accounting!
Good luck with your future years & try to get something accomplished in your classes
Miss ya.
Love

P.S. Quit picking on Nick.

Teresa
so it's been a real bum year
I hope it was been for you
Next year you will be a Junior and I will be a Senior
but if I stay here I hope
I have you in one of my classes stay sweet and don't forget me.
